

House of Representatives to pay tribute to my very good friends Judd and Susan Shoval and their company, GUARD Insurance, who received the Wilkes-Barre 2005 Community Leadership Award at a ceremony on Friday at the Westmoreland Club in Wilkes-Barre, PA.

The foundation of GUARD was an entrepreneurial expansion for Judd and Susan and a move that showed their commitment to investing in the community. Prior to GUARD, they had founded a commercial property and casualty insurance agency called Shoval Associates. As their business grew, they established an independent insurance company specializing in workers' compensation insurance in 1983.

In 2004, A.M. Best Co. recognized GUARD Insurance as an e-Fusion Finalist. This is a national awards program that spotlights innovative usage of technology to address insurance business challenges. In 2001, GUARD was ranked second among the 50 best large places to work in Pennsylvania. Ernst and Young recognized Judd and Susan with the Regional Entrepreneur-of-the-Year Award in 2001.

Judd and Susan—always community minded—kept their home office in Wilkes-Barre. They operate seven field offices and have four subsidiaries. Their company employs 560 and insures 27,000 employees.

Judd and Susan are tremendously involved in the community. I have known Susan very well as a director of the Earth Conservancy, a non-profit organization I helped found dedicated to reclaiming and developing 16,000 acres of former coal mine lands. I will always be grateful for the time and leadership she devoted to this worthy cause.

Judd is also involved with the community, including service on the boards of local universities, the Jewish Community Center and the United Jewish Campaign. He is also the chairman of CityVest, a nonprofit organization I helped found to serve as a developer of last resort. CityVest has already renovated several classic old homes on South Franklin Street and is now embarking on perhaps Wilkes-Barre's premiere landmark, The Hotel Sterling.

Judd earned a law degree from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Originally from Austria, Judd had moved to America in the early 1970s. A native of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Susan graduated magna cum laude with an economics degree from Cornell University and with highest honors from the College of Insurance in New York City. Judd and Susan have four children: Ben, Deborah, Karyn, and Rebecca.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in congratulating these two entrepreneurs who have given so much to their community. They are most deserving of the Wilkes-Barre 2005 Community Leadership Award.

HONORING COLORADO SENATE
PRESIDENT JOAN FITZ-GERALD

HON. MARK UDALL

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 2, 2005

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor my good friend, Joan Fitz-Gerald. Senator Fitz-Gerald is the first woman to lead the Colorado State Senate and is the only female Senate President in the entire country.

When you meet Joan, who stands at about 5'1", the first image that comes to mind is not necessarily that of a woman capable of breaking ceilings, glass or otherwise. Yet she has done just that since she first ran for Jefferson County Clerk and Recorder in 1990. At the time, many people thought that she had been recruited to run for County Clerk and Recorder as little more than a Democratic place holder on the ballot. No Democrat had won in a county-wide election in the previous 15 years and no woman had ever held the position of County Clerk and Recorder in the history of Jefferson County. But Joan has always been more interested in breaking glass ceilings than in being a place holder. She campaigned hard on a solid platform and won that election. She served in the Clerk and Recorder's office until 1998. In 2000, she ran for the Colorado Senate.

Again she waged an uphill battle in a district that was traditionally difficult for a Democrat and was once again successful against popular convention of the time. Her victory gave Democrats the one seat majority they needed to take back control of the Senate. When the Democrats lost their majority the following election cycle, Senator Fitz-Gerald again made history by become the first female Minority Leader of the Senate.

In this past election cycle, Joan was one of the key leaders to orchestrate a plan to take back the Senate for the Democrats. She did this while caring for her ailing mother and caring for her brother who was diagnosed with leukemia. She lost both within 11 days of one another after the election.

It is a sign of the sincerity and strength of one's character when friends and foes alike agree about another person's character. Anyone who knows her, friend or foe, will say that she is a fighter. More than that she is also a person interested in advancing the goals of community service. She may be on the verge of becoming Colorado's Harry Truman. But then again, maybe Harry Truman was Missouri's Joan Fitz-Gerald.

Senator Joan Fitz-Gerald is a strong, smart, savvy woman. I am proud that she is the Colorado State Senate President and even more proud that she is my friend. I ask my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to join me in honoring Joan Fitz-Gerald for her achievement.

IN RECOGNITION OF BRANDON MICHAEL RUNYON UPON HIS ACHIEVEMENT OF EAGLE SCOUT
COURT OF HONOR

HON. ELLEN O. TAUSCHER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 2, 2005

Mrs. TAUSCHER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to my constituent Brandon Michael Runyon of Eagle Scout troop #204 in Lafayette, California, as he receives the distinguished honor of the Eagle Scout rank.

The honor of Eagle Scout is given only to those young men who have demonstrated that they have fulfilled its rigorous requirements, including living by the Scout Oath and Law, rising through the Boy Scout ranks, earning 21 merit badges, serving as a leader, and planning and leading a service project for their community. This is not an honor given out lightly: this young man is becoming an Eagle Scout because he is intelligent, dedicated, and principled.

I am proud to call Brandon Michael Runyon my constituent, for he is a shining example of the promise of the next generation. Indeed, he represents the best of the young people in our country. I extend my sincere congratulations to him and his family, on this momentous occasion.

HARMFUL AND COUNTERPRODUCTIVE
UNITED STATES EMBARGO
ON CUBA

HON. RON PAUL

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, February 2, 2005

Mr. PAUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise again this Congress to introduce a bill to lift the harmful and counterproductive United States Embargo on Cuba.

On June 29, 2001, the Texas State legislature adopted a resolution calling for an end to U.S. economic sanctions against Cuba. Lawmakers emphasized the failure of sanctions to remove Castro from power, and the unwillingness of other nations to respect the embargo. One Texas Representative stated: "We have a lot of rice and agricultural products, as well as high-tech products, that would be much cheaper for Cuba to purchase from Texas. All that could come through the ports of Houston and Corpus Christi." I wholeheartedly support this resolution, and I have introduced similar Federal legislation in past years to lift all trade, travel, and telecommunications restrictions with Cuba. I only wish Congress understood the simple wisdom expressed in Austin; so that we could end the harmful and ineffective trade sanctions that serve no national purpose.

I oppose economic sanctions for two very simple reasons. First, they don't work as effective foreign policy. Time after time, we have failed to unseat despotic leaders by refusing to trade with the people of those nations. If anything, the anti-American sentiment aroused by sanctions often strengthens the popularity of such leaders, who use America as a convenient scapegoat to divert attention from their own tyranny. So while sanctions may serve our patriotic fervor, they mostly harm innocent citizens and do nothing to displace the governments we claim as enemies.

Second, sanctions hurt American industries, particularly agriculture. Sanctions destroy American jobs. Every market we close to our Nation's farmers is a market exploited by foreign farmers. China, Russia, the Middle East, North Korea, and Cuba all represent huge markets for our farm products, yet many in Congress favor current or proposed trade restrictions that prevent our farmers from selling to the billions of people in these countries. Given our status as one of the world's largest agricultural producers, why would we ever choose to restrict our exports? The only beneficiaries of our sanctions policies are our foreign competitors.

I certainly understand the emotional feelings many Americans have toward nations such as
